Not Ready to Make His Reasons Public.

Ats Successor Is Practically Selected, but His Name is Kept

Col. Joel B. Erhardt's resignation as Collector of the Port of New York, to take effect Aug. 1, is in the hands of President Harrison. Although it was tendered a month ago, it has not yet been formerly accepted by the President. Col. Erhardt, however, declares that his decision in the matter is irrevocable and final, and that he will leave the Custom House for good the day after to-morrow.

The report of the Collector's resignation caused a bigger sensation in the old granite building in Wall street this morning than his wholesale official slaughter which was an- J. Pulling, of the same division, salary $1.200 nounced late last evening.

An Attack of Vertigo Previous to a Departure for New York.

A Newport despatch was printed this morning as follows: "Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt was seized with something like vertigo while bathing at Balley's Beach, and had to be assisted home in the carriage of a lady passing by. The physician who was called said that Mr. Vanderbilt had been imprudent in going into the water when in a perspiration from

In answer to late inquiries by THE EVENING World came the following despatch: NEWFORT, R. I., July 29 .- The rumor that Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt is seriously ill or that he has been so is strenously denied by his
